GOOGLE INDIA GIRL HACKATHON 2025.

We are excited to share that Google's Virtual Girl Hackathon registrations are now open!

Girl Hackathon is a program for women in computer science and allied courses across India designed with the aim to help women in the engineering campus space to showcase their coding skills and help create solutions for real time themed technical challenges.

Participants will have a chance to win cash prizes and Google Branded Merchandise.

Eligibility:

- Girl students only
- Currently pursuing UG or PG degrees in computer science and/or related circuit branches.
- Any year (1st year to 4th year)

It's a fantastic platform to showcase your coding skills and collaborate with other bright minds to create innovative solutions for real-world challenges.

This virtual hackathon will put your problem-solving abilities to the test! Join now and register for the Girl Hackathon for a chance to win cash prizes and awesome merchandise.
